

YOUTH PASSERS FORGED CHECKS

Cletis Miller, Age 17, a Farm Laborer, Gets $24 on Four Here and $10 on One at Connersville.

EMPLOYED BY JOHN A. GRAY

Worthless Paper Made Payable to Him and Name of Employer Forged Them—He Disappears.

After successfully passing four forged checks for six dollars each here and one at Connersville for ten dollars, Cletis Miller, age seventeen years, who was employed by John A. Gray on his farm east of here, has disappeared.

The checks were made out to Miller and the name of Mr. Gray was forged to all of them. After making repeated attempts to cash checks, Miller succeeded in getting money at Hale's five and ten cent store A. G. Haydon's hardware store, Fox Brothers' drug store and Homer Havens' grocery store.

Miller first tried to cash a forged check for six dollars at the Peoples National bank, where Mr. Gray does business. Carl Webb, at the bank, immediately saw that the signature to the check was not that of Mr. Gray's and refused to give the boy the money.

Miller tried at the O. P. C. H. and Cox's shoe store before he went to Hale's store. Mrs. Hale, who has not been in business here long enough to be widely acquainted, inquired about the signature, but did not question the authenticity of the check.

Mrs. Hale did not discover that the check was worthless until she went to deposit it the next day after she had cashed it. Then she was informed at the bank that it was not worth the paper it was written on because the signature was not that of Mr. Gray's. While Mrs. Hale was in the bank, Mr. Gray entered and he denied that he had ever written the check.

At the same time, too, the forged check which was passed in Connersville by the boy, was received in the mail and Mr. Gray said that he had never written it either.

Mr. Gray was quoted as saying that Miller was a good farm laborer and that he had always been reliable. He came from South Carolina to this place last summer and had been employed by Mr. Gray. It is thought he returned to his former home.

It is said to be the belief of those interested that the boy is not capable of such a crime by himself but that the stage was all set for him and he was persuaded to violate the law.

"WAR" TAX LIKELY TO BE CONTINUED

Motion to Facilitate Passage of Emergency Revenue Measure Passed House, 208 to 192.

MUCH ORATORY IS SET FREE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 16.—Enactment of resolutions continuing present "war taxes" through 1916 was indicated this afternoon in the first test vote during a sharp parliamentary fight between the Republican and Democratic forces. A motion designed to facilitate the passage of the measure won, 208 to 192, three Democrats voting with the Republicans.

The house resounded with oratory while the debate in the emergency revenue measure. The tax was necessary, asserted Republican leader Mann and due only to Democratic incompetency in the matter of tariff making.

The senate finance committee today reported favorably on the war emergency tax. The measure will be up for action in the senate tomorrow.

FILE MOTIONS TO QUASH INDICTMENTS

Mrs. Inez Knotts and William West Assign Faulty Dates as Cause For Asking Dismissal.

MOTION TO BE ARGUED SOON

Faulty dates is the reason assigned for wanting the indictments against Mrs. Inez Knotts and William West quashed. Both are charged with breaking the Sabbath. In the motion to quash it is pointed out that the dates set forth in the indictments charges them with breaking Sunday, November 24, and alleges that this does not constitute a public offense because November 24 was on Wednesday.

A similar indictment against Isaac Knotts was not attacked because the date in it was correct to correspond on Sunday. The motion to quash will be argued soon. These indictments were returned at the same time the one charging Mr. and Mrs. Knotts with operating a public nuisance. They will be tried on this charge next Tuesday.

SENDS 30 CENTS; RELIEVES MIND

Indianapolis Man, Conscious-Stricken, Pays Admission Fee and Interest to Fair Association.

AS LAD STOLE IN 20 YEARS AGO

Quote Scripture Frequently in Letter Accompanying Coin, Evidently Having "Got" Religion.

The Rush County Fair association is thirty cents ahead today as that sum in "conscience money" was received by J. V. Young, former treasurer of the association, from an Indianapolis man, whose name is withheld. In the letter in which the letter in which the money was enclosed the man states that he slipped in the fair about twenty years ago, thus beating the association out of twenty-five cents. The added five cents was sent as interest.

The man sending the "conscience money" has evidently "got" a lot of religion since slipping in the fair as he quotes the Bible frequently in the letter. The letter is self-explanatory and is quoted in full as follows: "Treasurer of Rush Co. Fair Assn., Rushville, Ind.

Dear Sir—The law of compensation and retribution is as sure to act as the sun is to shine. 'What so ever a man soweth that shall he also reap.' 'It is appointed unto man once to die and after that the judgment,' and 'we shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body.'

"Some twenty years ago the writer when only a lad some ten or eleven years of age cheated the Rush County Fair Association out of 25 cents admittance. It happen in this way. My father and mother, two of God's own children permitted me to go to the fair with some cousins of mine, who having no seeming convictions of right and wrong suggested that I crawl under a large carriage seat as we went in the game and thus save my money. I yielded to the temptation and stole the quarter from you.

"Since that time I found Jesus precious to my soul and tarried with Jesus until my soul was filled with love divine and purged of the dross by the Holy Ghost, thus injecting into my soul a desire to right every wrong possible that I have ever done. What I can't make right, Jesus has forgiven and God has erased it from my record never to be remembered against me no more. Thank God for the old time religion!

"While thinking over my past life the incident of which I write came into my memory, therefore I am herewith enclosing 25 cents and 5 cents interest, thus straightening my record with you. Please accept same and forgive my transgression for I expect to meet Jesus with clean hands and a pure heart.

"If you are not a Bible Christian may God stir up your soul and cause you to inquire 'Where shall my dying soul spend eternity.'

"I shall some day meet you in the general judgment and then you shall appear as a witness that I have cleared my soul of guilt in this matter.

"With a heart full of divine love, I am your friend."

TAKES MOVIES HERE.

MOVIE MACHINE FOR AUDITORIUM

High School Faculty Also Spends Sum For Gymnasium Equipment in New Graham Annex.

MONEY FOR SPECIAL FUNDS

Parent-Teachers Association Will Present Agreement to School Board, it is Decided.

The athletic committee of the high school faculty met Wednesday night and opened bids on equipment for the gymnasium at the Graham Annex. Paraphernalia amounting to $205 was ordered and it is expected that about $50 more will be spent for the same purpose. The committee has already invested $70 in bleacher seats for the gymnasium to be used for basketball games. The money used if from a special athletic fund that has been growing for some time. The fund was created with the proceeds from several home talent plays and entertainments which were given for the benefit of the new gymnasium. The school board will make an appropriation for equipment if the special fund is not sufficient.

It was also announced today that a motion picture machine for the Graham Annex auditorium had been ordered and will be installed by January 1. Walter Easley, owner of the Princess theater was expected at the auditorium this afternoon to give advice regarding the location of the machine. Moving pictures will be furnished once each month by the Chicago Record Herald and it is expected films can also be obtained from several universities. The machine is equipped so that stationary views may also be shown with it. The machine was also purchased from a special fund, part of which was the proceeds from Mrs. Demarehus Brown's lecture class last winter.

The Parent-teachers association of the public schools held a meeting with the school board Wednesday afternoon late to make tentative plans for the use of the Graham Annex auditorium after Christmas. It is understood that the association heard the ideas of the school board regarding the public use of the auditorium and that the meeting closed with the understanding that the Association should draw up an agreement which would be submitted to the board for the signatures of the members.

The Parent-teachers association wants to take over the auditorium and have complete charge of it. In that event, in case there were any desired to use the auditorium it would be necessary to consult the association. Whatever revenue would be derived from the rental of the auditorium, it is stated, would be used for school purposes.

ALL COMING IN AND NOTHING GOING OUT

This is Condition of Goodfellows League Today When Forty Names Are Added to List.

PLENTY OF WORK TO BE DONE

Everything was coming in and nothing going out today with the Goodfellows League. No Good Fellows appeared to take any of the League's wards to give them a merry Christmas. Another district of the city was heard from and forty more names of little folks were added to the list. This makes a total of seventy yet to be cared for. There is still another district out yet, which may be expected to yield just as many names as the one reported today. In that event there are over a hundred estimated to be taken care of yet.

So it is very evident that Good Fellows need not be idle. There is plenty of work to be done and only one week will elapse until Christmas will be here and the League will close its books for another season. Good Fellows had better arrange now to get into the work so there will be no uncertainty about the little wards going Christmasless.

TRACTION COMPANY WINS DAMAGE SUIT

Takes Only Fifteen Minutes For Jury to Decide Case in Which John W. Bever Sought $800.

ONLY TWO BALLOTS TAKEN

The jury hearing the case of John W. Bever against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company was out 15 minutes in returning a verdict for the traction company. The closing argument was made this morning and the court's instructions were read following the noon adjournment. The jury took two ballots, the first standing 10 to 2 in favor of the defendant. On the next ballot the verdict was reached.

The case was a long drawn out affair occupying the attention of court for four days. The amount involved was $800. Bever asked this amount in damages from the wreck of an automobile in an accident in Connersville. The complaint alleged negligence on the part of the defendant company. Geo. W. Thomas was foreman of the jury.

SECOND NOTE IS CONSIDERED

Preliminary Outline of Austrian Reply Pronounced Evasive And Unsatisfactory

NO REASONS TO BE GIVEN

Unofficial Report Says Answer Was Cabled to Berne And Will be Forwarded Here

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 16.—Austria must directly comply or refuse in every respect the demands of the United States in the Ancona case.

With reports indicating the Austro-Hungarian government is playing for time in asking for details the American government may possess regarding the attack on the liner, in a reply handed Ambassador Penfield, this attitude was outlined in detail today by an official who has advised Secretary Lansing on every step taken in the case.

It was also pointed out in diplomatic circles that the United States has a precedent to point to if necessary in refusing to give further reasons for the demands made on the Austrian government.

If Austria regards her course with regard to Serbia which brought about the European war, as justified, then Vienna can not insist that the United States furnish details on which demands for approval, reparation and punishment of the submarine commander were based, according to the belief in some circles.

It was pointed out that Austria has already admitted the Ancona was torpedoed while standing still. Only the most positive assurance from Vienna to this government that the Austrian government has proof that this report was wrong will be acceptable as basis for delay.

A report at the state department today said the Austrian note, replying to American demands concerning the Ancona was cabled to Berne, Switzerland, last night, to be forwarded from here today. It was expected to reach Washington tonight.

Another and more pre-emptory demand for disavowal of the Ancona sinking was under consideration today. Preliminary outlines of Austria's reply to the American note, reported delivered to Ambassador Penfield were pronounced evasive and unsatisfactory.

In this government's second note Austria is to be curtly informed immediate compliance with American demands is insisted upon. Further reasons for demanding the disavowal are not likely to be given.

RELATIVES IN SHOTGUN DUEL

C. C. Henry, 55, Perhaps Fatally Shot by Son-in-Law, Gamaliel Lockridge, Near Madison.

QUARREL OVER MANAGEMENT

Lockridge is so Badly Shot That Amputation of One Arm Will be Necessary to Save Life.

Madison, Ind., Dec. 16.—In a duel with shotguns, which took place in Monroe township late Wednesday afternoon, twelve miles north of here, near the county line, Gamaliel Lockridge, 40 years old, suffered a shattered left hand and forearm and his father-in-law, C. C. Henry, 55 years old, received a charge of shot in the hip and side that will probably cause his death. Lockridge lived on the farm of his father-in-law and the two men quarreled over the management of the place.

Word of the shooting reached here Wednesday evening from the locality, which is remote and difficult to reach by telephone.

Lockridge was driven several miles by his wife to Dupont, this county, and then was rushed to North Vernon in an automobile for a surgical operation. Henry was removed to his home and a later report says he can not survive.

Both men are well-to-do farmers. No action will be taken by the authorities until the result of the men's injuries is known.

Lockridge's arm was so badly shattered that amputation at the elbow will be necessary.

Lockridge, who is 30 years old, has been living on the farm of his father-in-law in Monroe township and the men have had trouble over a potato crop. The dispute was renewed today when the ownership of a quantity of firewood was in question. Both men obtained shotguns and they met in Henry's barnyard. Lockridge declares his father-in-law fired the first shot and that he returned the fire, wounding Henry in the side. A charge from Henry's gun shattered Lockridge's arm, compelling amputation.

The condition of Henry is critical and it is believed that, because of his age, he can not survive.

The families have been residents of Jefferson county about ten years.

Stamp Out a Scourge

The total sales of Red Cross Christmas seals in 1907 amounted to $125,000. In 1908 the sales increased to $230,000 and the year following to $310,000. Last season more than 35,000,000 seals were sold and with a perfected organization this year the national Red Cross expects greatly to exceed and previous sale.

The few pennies spent for them by the average individual may seem to represent an almost negligible force, but when millions of like sums are added together even the money value of the campaign assumes a powerful significance.

These financial proceeds represent only a small part of the services rendered by the little seals, however. It is their educational value that justifies their sudden rise to the dignity of a national institution.

Wherever used they do far more than carry a message of good will. Alike to those who send and those who receive them, they say, almost as plainly as if they had power of speech, "Consumption can be conquered."

"We could stamp out even the scourge of tuberculosis within a very few years if only we could educate every one regarding it," said Doctor Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin. "Knowledge is the deadliest shot that can be fired against disease of any sort."

So, by carrying to the remotest corners of great cities as well as to the wide country itself, the message that consumption not only is curable under certain conditions, but preventable, these Red Cross seals are reaching the people in a way that no other message could. For their first appeal is to the heart; and that helps them to surmount all barriers, such as lack of intelligence and differing languages.

They come as annual reminders of a prime duty—that of stamping out the most destructive of diseases.

Not only do they remind us of this duty but in a forceful way they show us how it may be accomplished. For while each of these little seals is, in itself, relatively impotent as a weapon, the millions which are sold and bought each year represent a force that is far reaching and pregnant with benefits.

All the evidence brought to Washington by members of Congress points to the general dissatisfaction of the country with the policies and the personnel of the Administration. Republicans, naturally, proclaim the fact; and Democrats, privately, admit it. Republican difficulties in the next campaign can come only from within the party. Wise action in Congress, a judicious selection of the ticket, a satisfactory declaration of principles in the platform—these will make assurance doubly sure. There is no doubt that the Republican party will respond to these needs, as it always has, satisfactorily to the country.

Washington dispatches says that Democrats of the house, in caucus assembled, agreed to support a resolution designed to extend the life of the present emergency tax, commonly known as the "war-in-time-of-peace" tax, until December 31, 1916, or for one year. Now isn't that wholesome news when one is spending all that can be scraped together for Christmas gifts?

Champ Clark declares himself in favor of "reasonable" preparedness. This convenient term is proving itself a most elastic ambush for statesmen who want to be on the winning side. The Supreme Court once said something about the "rule of reason" as applied in trust litigation. Maybe we can get a judicial interpretation of what constitutes "reasonable" preparedness.

The financial sharps of the Treasury Department believe that their proposed tax on gasoline will produce $27,000,000 a year. This may be so. And every time a motorist has his gasoline tank filled he will register anew his vow to vote against the party that put the tax on.

The Administration "was at the high tide of popularity" six months ago; "since then there has been a steady ebb," says the New York "Globe." There may be some disagreement over the date, but there is none as to the facts.

That Mascott squirrel delivered to the Ford party just before sailing certainly won't go hungry.

What has become of the old-fashioned women who used to wear men's collars and cravats?

One begins to surmise that Mr. Justice Hughes would rather be justice than president.

There is less crime in Britain as a result of the war. But there is more war.

"Women have peace aim," says headline. Well, it's 100 to 1 they'll miss it.

Now won't some other philanthropist organize a peace ship for Mexico?

Philadelphia has once more its pets, the liberty bell and Boise Penrose.

Europe's war has strained the quality of mercy and of veracity as well.

King Hunger has a way of pushing other monarchs off their thrones.

Russia has again enlisted the services of its oldest ally—winter.

Better attend to that Christmas shopping now.

CAMPAIGN IS A RECORD BREAKER

Reports From Every Section of State Indicate This Year Will Exceed All Others.

MANY COUNTIES REVIVED
On December 10 Many Localities Report Sales Greater Than Total of 1916.

From every section of Indiana come reports to the effect that the Red Cross Seal campaign this year is a record breaker. While the sale of these cheery little holiday greeting bearers, issued by the American Red Cross for the war on tuberculosis has grown steadily year by year, 1915 bids fair to exceed 1914 by a far wider margin than 1914 exceeded any previous year.

Counties that here-to-fore have indicated but little interest in Red Cross seals, now are clamoring for seals faster than the state headquarters can supply them. The demand has been so great, that for the first time since its organization, the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has been swamped with orders for seals, that it couldn't fill. Already nearly 6,000,000 seals have been distributed in Indiana to local anti-tuberculosis societies, women's clubs, sororities, groups of Camp Fire Girls, King's Daughters and others interested in the work. This is more than a million in excess of the number distributed in an entire campaign in any previous year.

Many localities on December 10 reported a total sale equal to or greater than the local sale in 1914. Business men are using the seals in greater quantities this year and reports from school authorities indicate that the number of children engaged in the campaign this year is greater by several thousand than ever before.

Anti-tuberculosis workers throughout the state have been greatly encouraged by the announcement that results very much worth while are being obtained in Indiana as the result of the intensive fight that is being waged against the "white plague." It is shown that in 1904, the total deaths from consumption in Indiana were 5,178, compared with 4,077 in 1914 despite an increase of approximately a quarter of a million in population.

With the unprecedented success of the Red Cross seal campaign this year, it is expected that still greater inroads will be made on tuberculosis during the next few months.

The policy of the organized anti-tuberculosis movement in Indiana, is "Prevention rather than Cure." Thus it will be found that a great proportion of the Red Cross seal fund will be used in a broadening of the educational campaign through the schools of the state, and by means of literature, exhibits and newspaper publicity as well as by lectures in moving picture shows, churches, the schools and other meeting places where the public generally congregates.

The Vatican was not originally intended as a place of residence. Comparatively a small part of it is now residential; the remainder serves the purposes of science, art and the administration of the Catholic church. WALTER OLDS WITHDRAWS

Senatorial Candidate Announces he Will Support New.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 16.—Walter Olds of Ft. Wayne today issued a statement in which he announced that he had withdrawn from the race for Republican nomination for United States senator and will support H. S. New, Jas. E. Watson's chief opponent, who announced himself after Hugh Th Miller of Columbus withdrew.

Most Awkward.
An old, steady going farmer was accustomed to ride to the market town upon a rather bad tempered horse. One day his man Bob brought the animal, which was especially vicious that morning, to the door, the horse trying to bite and kick and giving a good deal of trouble.

The farmer mounted the horse with some difficulty and began to walk it out of the yard when Bob, who still entertained ill feeling against the animal, picked up a stone and flung it at him with all his force; but, alas, his aim was erratic, and the missile struck his master on the head.

Half dazed for a moment, the farmer turned slowly in his saddle, and, not suspecting the real cause of the blow, he measured with his eye the horse's hind hoofs and his own head and, setting himself in the saddle again, started off with the remark, "Well, he allus was an okard beggar."—London Mail.

Karlsruhe's First Family.
Sleepy Karlsruhe is amusingly depicted by Sir Horace Rumbold, who passed a dull part of his diplomatic career there. He found Karlsruhe society entirely composed of half a dozen families of long descent and small means, who had intermarried for generations. Whoever was not a Gemmingen was a Hardenberg or a Duereckheim or an Amerongen. Talleyrand had a tale of his first visit to the Karlsruhe theater. "Who is that lady in the third box on the first tier?" "That is a Gemmingen," said the young native who accompanied him. "And that general in the stalls?" "Also a Gemmingen." At last Talleyrand exclaimed, "Why, you all seem to be Gemmingens!" "Yes," said the youth in German-French, "but all are not good Gemmingens. I am a good Gemmingen—Gemmingen-Gemmingen-Gutenberg!"—London Standard.

Ben Franklin's Chair.
In his old age Benjamin Franklin's health failed him to a considerable extent. He suffered from gout and the stone, which, with complications, eventually carried him off. But he was always exceedingly cheerful, even when suffering, and, as one of his friends has recorded, "full of anecdotes and learning." Even at this time in his life he added to the already extensive list of his inventions, contriving among other things a most curious chair which, when desired, could be converted into a stepladder for the purpose of reaching the higher shelves in a library. As far as known, only one of these chairs was ever actually constructed for his own particular use, and this is owned at present by the Philosophical society of Philadelphia.

Rain.
There are so many things worse than rain that we refuse to fret about it. If we had the toothache every other day for two months straight we might growl. If an amateur cornetist lived next door and practiced regularly we should complain; if bills were sent in once a week instead of once a month; if bores never went home; if all friendship were mercenary and false in adversity; if sickness visited us oftener and stayed longer than health; if malicious people were many and the kind few we might justifiably be miserable and remain so.
But so long as so many worse things that could be don't arrive it can rain every day if it wants to. Most of our joy is weather proof.—Detroit Free Press.

FOR BRONCHITIS, SEVERE COUGHS COLDS AND WHOOPING COUGH

Make the Best Medicine at Home— 128 Teaspoonfuls For 50 Cents.

Money spent for the old style, made medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonfuls) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to Fox Bros.' Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonfuls.) This new, simple pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial

Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough home-made medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist, in fact any druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as is done with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee.

JAYWALKER ADDS TO PUBLIC DANGER

Careless Walking and Reckless Auto Drivers Responsible For Large Per Cent of Accidents.

START CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

(By United Press.)
New York, Dec. 16.—A careless walking public and reckless auto drivers are responsible for most of the auto killings and other accidents on the streets of American cities, in the opinion of Police Commissioner Woods of New York City. Campaigns against jaywalking and reckless driving have been inaugurated in New York and many other cities recently.

"The only remedy for this condition," said Commissioner Woods today, "is the education of the public, centralization in the authorities of control over chauffeurs, the improvement of traffic conditions and the streets."

"Arrests and fines have failed to teach drivers anything. The courts have been too lenient with those offenders. This however, does not excuse the pedestrian's carelessness. The jaywalker, or person who crosses the street between blocks increases public danger, decreases police protection and tends generally to prevent the recovery of damages in case of injury."

SALE OF PROPERTY

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned commissioner under an order of the Rush Circuit court will sell at the law office of Hall & Campbell, in the City of Rushville, Indiana, on Tuesday, January 11th, 1916, at ten o'clock a. m., five residence properties and a gas well on Harrison street in the City of Rushville. Said property is a part of the estate of Lucinda Caldwell, deceased. Bids will be received on said property as a whole, also separately and in parcels.

The gas well has a strong pressure and will furnish gas for quite a number of residence properties and bids will be received on the gas well separately, also in connection with the bids on the residence properties.

This will be a splendid opportunity for an investment at a bargain in either of the residence properties and the gas well separately or sold together as a whole.

TERMS OF SALE will be made very reasonable and to suit the convenience of the respective purchasers.

FRANK J. HALL,

London Police Raid Pankhurst Publicity Headquarters.

Holland and Herrings.

To the sea the Dutch owe most of their wealth. The art of curing herring was discovered by a poor Dutch fisherman, William Beukels, in 1350, who found that the fish which they caught in great abundance could be smoked and salted away in kegs and then transported to the ends of the world in good condition. Such a trade resulted that it was said that "Amsterdam is built on herring bones." Several hundred years after the death of Beukels the emperor, Charles V., went to the tomb of the fisherman and there ate a herring in gratitude for the invention. And in a church in Biervliet today may be seen a stained glass window in honor of this man. Herring have been one of the chief means of trade to the Hollanders, so that even at the present day the first catch is taken to the royal palace in a coach and six.

Concerning the Dolomites.

The fairyland about Cortina is familiar to thousands of tourists as "The Dolomites." Dolomite, a rock compounded of carbonate of lime and carbonate of magnesia, takes its name from the French geologist Deodat de Gracet, Marquis de Dolomieu, who spent his time in 1789 and the following years, while his countrymen were busy with revolution and war, in visiting this and other Alpine districts. He first mentions this kind of rock in 1791, and the word "Dolomite" first occurs in a pamphlet of 1802 describing a tour of his in the Alps about the St. Gothard and the Simplon. The curious point, noted by Mr. Coolidge, is that the marquis seems to have paid no attention to the dolomite rocks in the neighborhood of his own home, Dolomieu, near Grenoble.—London Mirror.

The Familiar Unknown.

Things you see every day and never notice form a favorite topic with those who probe curiously into our deficiencies. The watch trick is perhaps an open secret by now, and yet you may fail in reproducing the Roman figures that you confront in all moods many times a day. Can you describe the aspect of a shilling, which I hope you see as many times a day, or a penny postage stamp? I am sure that any postal maiden could sell me a dozen penny stamps with the wrong head on them and send me away contented. And yesterday I met a man who had lived for years in happiness on Haverstock hill and couldn't tell me the number of steps that led to the front door of his own house.—London Spectator.

SUBMARINE'S ACTION PRAISED

Statement of Vienna Admiralty Defends Commander of Submarine That Sunk Ancona

UNITED STATES IS DEFILED

Says His Report Has Been Received And There is no Fault to be Found With it.

Vienna, Dec. 14, (by courier to Berlin, via London, Dec. 15).—The Austro-Hungarian Admiralty is entirely opposed to any disavowal of the course of the submarine commander who was responsible for the sinking of the Italian steamer Ancona. On the contrary, it approves his conduct fully and declared that he would have been considered as having failed to perform his duty if he had allowed the Ancona to escape.

The Admiralty today stated its case and the attitude of the naval authorities as follows:

"It is a submarine commander's duty to make a report to a designated base as soon as possible and the commander who sank the Ancona did this as soon as he was within wireless distance. He made a supplementary report at Pola and accompanied it with his log. No examination of the crew was held because the commander's report was considered complete and there was no reason to suppose that the crew could add anything thereto.

"So far as the commander is concerned his course is clear. The Admiralty has received his report and sees no reason to find any fault with his course of action.

"If any such reason existed; that is, if the Admiralty had found that the commander had done anything contrary to his instructions, it would spontaneously institute an investigation against him without waiting for any demand to come from some foreign government. It can happen that a commander in heat of battle deals contrary to instructions, but nothing of the kind has occurred in this case.

"It appears clearly from his report that his ship was in danger, indeed in double danger, first from the fact that an enemy boat was approaching on a line that threatened to cut off his retreat and the enemy ship and the Ancona could have established his radius of action and could have set a torpedo boat flotilla on him; and second there was danger of the Ancona escaping, which, according to his instructions, was to be prevented in all circumstances. Hence the conduct of the commander much as the loss of innocent lives must be regretted and deplored, can not be disapproved.

"On the contrary, if he had departed without destroying the Ancona it would have been failure to do his duty, since the Ancona could have notified other ships of his whereabouts. The loss of American lives is regrettable, as well as the fact that Americans used a vessel belonging to a nation at war with Austria-Hungary."

for prompt disavowal of the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona in her reply to the American note.

Vienna dispatches today said the Austrian reply was delivered to Ambassador Penfield. It contains a request for more time and further negotiations. Austria, according to reports, makes no reply to the American demand that the commander of the submarine be punished. There is every reason to believe that Austria will never consent to this step.

The tone of the note, however, is conciliatory.

All Money Good in Canada.

There is no place in the world where money is under less supervision than in Canada. The coins in circulation there are not confined to the Dominion. British halfpennies and pennies circulate as freely as the cents, and United States coins of all descriptions are accepted as equal in value to the Canadian coins, though the United States refuses to handle the coins of the Dominion on its own side of the border. In the course of a busy day in Canada you are not surprised to meet coinage of many nations. Sometimes you get finds. A correspondent who is an amateur coin collector tells me he got among his change a beautiful specimen of a farthing of the reign of George III., and an hour or two afterward he became the possessor of an old Irish halfpenny over 100 years old, with the harp on one side. Probably these two coins had been carefully preserved, but poverty induced the proprietors to part with them.—London Chronicle.

Then There Was a Shakeup.

Some years ago the Italian minister of foreign affairs, Signor Prinetti, asked his majesty King Victor Emmanuel to sign a decree for the augmentation of the staff of the foreign office. The king promised to think the matter over and the next morning set out alone on foot to pay a visit to the office. Arriving at 9 o'clock, he found no one there. A long search unearthed a solitary clerk who was smoking cigarettes. "What are the hours of this office?" asked the king.

"From 8 to 12," was the reply. "And when may I expect to see your colleagues?"

"They generally turn up about 11." "Very well. When your chief comes tell him the king has been here."

And then his majesty sent for Signor Prinetti and suggested that instead of asking for more clerks he should make it his business to see that those already on the staff attended to their duties.

MILLION MEN WOULD BE READY

Estimates of War Department Show
That U. S. Could Raise Large
Army if Call Came.

MOST OF THEM EXPERIENCED

Present Army Enlistment Plans Calls
For Three Years Service And
Four in Reserve

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 16.—There are a million men in the United States who could respond to the colors in some form of military usefulness,
if the call came.

These are national guardsmen and ex-national guardsmen still of military age; who have received training under authorized army officers in universities. There also are young men drilled under military men in high and private schools, and ex-U. S. marines who have had land training.

Officers of the U. S. army admit this would be a highly convenient
army nucleus in time of emergency,
but the government doesn't know where any of these men are except
the national guardsmen.

Roughly estimated there are 500,000 national guardsmen and ex-
national guardsmen; over 175,000
army and navy "alumni" between 180,000 and 200,000 Spanish war
veterans and 75,000 college cadets.

War department figures show
there are now 8,705 officers and 120,- 693 enlisted men in the national guard. In the Spanish war, 223,235
volunteer officers and enlisted men
served. In the colleges last year, there were 32,000 who had drill, and in the last 10 years 39,000 men have graduated who had been trained 2 years. Figures for ten years behind that easily make up the estimated total of 75,000, army officers say.

As to the regular army alumni, an average of 13,000 re-enlist each year. The total for 1914 was 14,349.
Even with the loss through deaths
since discharge; incapacitations, removal to other countries and old age, the figure for 20 years should be 175,000 to 200,000 men.

Recent plans of enlistment in the war department call for three years
with the colors and four in reserve.
Before that, once a man's term of enlistment was up, the government
gave no more attention to him.

* EXCERPT FROM SERMON *
* AT SECOND M. E. CHURCH *

The following is an excerpt from a sermon by Rev. J. L. Thompson in the revival at Second M. E. church:
My text is found in the eighth chapter of Romans, 32nd, verse. He that spared not his son but delivered him up for us all; how shall he not with him freely give us all things.

The Apostle Paul was inspired and led by God word for word. If he was here today we might hope to get the chief thought and understand these words better for Paul has had over 1800 years to experience the things.

He spared not his son. God had some motion for sparing Jesus or these words are foolish. I will give you three reasons why he wanted
to spare him.

First: He was an honest innocent
man with wrong heaped upon him.

Second: He was God's own and
only son.

Third: He saw him begging—
Father if it be possible let this cup
pass. And yet he did not spare him
—but delivered him up for us all.

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santanel Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

GLENWOOD WANTS JUSTICE OF PEACE

Town Board Will Take Steps to Get One Since Official Elected Did Not Qualify.

MEN HERE TO LEARN METHOD

The town of Glenwood wants a justice of peace and the most likely candidate for the position is Green Thompson. Glenwood is an incorporated town and has a town marshal, but there is no justice of peace, and thus there is no court there to try a case should an arrest be made.

At the last election a justice of peace was elected, but never qualified for office. Persons interested in the movement for a justice of peace were here yesterday consulting with County Attorney Wallace Morgan. Under the law the commissioners have the power to appoint a justice of the peace upon the presentation of a petition signed by two-thirds of the town board. It was stated that all of the town board is in favor of a justice of peace and that the petition would be presented to the commissioners either at the meeting December 28 or at the first regular meeting of the new year. The governor issues a certificate after the commissioners make the appointment.

John Bull.

The nickname John Bull is said to have appeared first in a satire by Dr. John Arbuthnot called "Law Is a Bottomless Pit; or, the History of John Bull," published in 1721. Washington Irving mentions the typical figure as a "sturdy, corpulent, old fellow with a red waistcoat, leather breeches and short, oaken cudgel. Many Napoleonic caricatures show John Bull represented in this way.

Mother Love.

"Mother machree," he said, "'tis worn and torn your heart is for love of us all."

"Jerome avick," I said to that, "'tis worn and torn the hearts of mothers were before me and will be again. God help their children if they're not."—From "Mother Machree," by James B. Connolly, in Scribner's.

Height of Annoyance.

"I'm mad at my wife. To anger her I shall flirt with some other woman." "If you want to make her absolutely furious ask some other woman to sew on a button for you."—Kansas City Journal.

M'KEE'S CHANCES ARE SHATTERED

Announcement of Probable Selection of L. Ert Slack For District Attorney Spoils Prospects.

CONNERSVILLE MAN FAVORED

A story in the Connersville News last evening suggesting that David W. McKee of Connersville, well known member of the Fayette county bar who frequently practices here and has presided as special judge here, might be the successor to United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey, reported from Washington to have been picked by Senators Shively and Kern, was shattered this morning by the announcement in Washington dispatches that L. Ert Slack, of Indianapolis, formerly of Franklin was the choice of the senators.

While the story that Slack will be appointed is neither confirmed nor denied in Indianapolis, it is practically certain that he is the choice of the two Indiana senators for the place. Slack is well known in Rushville. He has spoken here in campaigns and gave the address at the joint lodge memorial a few summers ago.

The News based its belief that Mr. McKee might be the successor of Dailey on the fact that McKee was one prominently mentioned for the appointment at the time Dailey was named and because he and Senator Kern are fast friends.

THE FEZ AND THE OTTOMAN.

Colors Mean Much, and Only the Arab Foregoes the Tarboosh.

That stream of people crossing the Galata bridge, over the Golden Horn, runs red, for every Ottoman, except the Arab, must wear the tarboosh. "The man with a hat" means the foreigner. The way to see Constantinople without attracting attention to yourself is to slip on a tarboosh, but the wise foreigner has been slow thus to surrender the one visible token of his special extraterritorial rights, for when trouble is afoot the word goes out to spare "the man with a hat" because of the fear of international complications. During the reactionary revolution that followed on the heels of the constitution there was a ludicrous scramble on the part of the Greeks and other Christians to get beneath hats, and the sudden crop of silk hats and derbies was wonderful to behold.

Fashions in fezzes pass in review across the bridge. The Albanian has a white headdress—a cross between a fez and a skullcap. The Persian wears a huge black felt dome that is matched in size only by the big brown bulb that crowns the head of the dervish. The hadji, whose merit in having made the haj, or pilgrimage, to Mecca is proclaimed by his huge turban, is a frequent figure on the bridge, for every Moslem man who has the means and the physical strength is expected to visit the birthplace of the prophet at least once in his life. The elaborately wound headdress of the hadji is of white cloth, but a sayid's, or descendant of Mohammed, is of green. Sometimes the mosque officials, or imams, even when they are not of the prophet's blood, wear the green turban.

Only the men wear any sort of headgear. The oriental woman goes hatless. A cloth or veil is as much covering as she wears on her head. As I stood there on the bridge I saw a group of Turkish women stare through their thick veils at the hat of a foreign woman as she hastened by. Since Young Turkey has come into power western fashions are much in favor in Constantinople.—Youth's Companion.

Shocked Him.

"What did the boss do when you threatened to resign if he didn't raise your pay?"

"He surprised me."

"How?"

"He failed to show the slightest sign of alarm at the prospect of my leaving."—Detroit Free Press.

An Advantage.

"To what do you attribute your remarkable health?"

"Well," replied the very old gentleman, "I reckon I got a good start on most people by bein' born before germs was discovered, thereby havin' less to worry about."—Washington Star.

Postmaster G. P. Hunt has called attention to the fact that many Santa Claus letters are being sent to the Daily Republican through the mails bearing only a one-cent stamp. All first class mail requires two cents, whether sealed or unsealed, and all little folks are warned that if they send their letters to Santa via mail, they should place a two-cent stamp on the envelope. Of course, the letters may be brought to the Republican office.

Ancient Iceland.
Iceland was founded A. D. 874 by men from Norway. In the words of John Fiske, "it was such a wholesale colonization of picked men as had not been seen since ancient Greek times and was not to be seen again until Winthrop sailed into Massachusetts bay. It was not long before the population of Iceland was 50,000. Their sheep and cattle flourished, hay crops were heavy, a lively trade—with fish, oil, butter and skins in exchange for meat and malt—was kept up with Norway, Denmark and the British Isles. Political freedom was unimpeded, justice was fairly well administered, naval superiority kept all foes at a distance, and under such conditions the growth of the new community in wealth and culture was surprisingly rapid."

Disliked Egotism.
"What's the matter with you?" asked his wife.

"I'm feeling lonely," was the reply.
"Don't you like this town?"
"I don't like this earth."
"What's the objection to it?"
"People are too egotistical. If there is anything I hate it's egotism. And when I see kings going about confidently and doing things wrong, and diplomats trying all sorts of insincere tricks with complete effrontery, and lawyers seeking applause for arguing on the wrong side of a case, and everybody displaying utter selfishness without a blush, I am forced to the conviction that I am the only consistently moral gentleman on this globe. And it makes me feel lonely."—Exchange.

SCANDAL MAY BE BROUGHT OUT

Divorce Suit of Former Terre Haute Minister Expected to Prove Sensational

WOMEN SAID TO BE INVOLVED

Wife Files Cross-Complaint—he is Now an "Attorney" in Los Angeles, Calif.

(By United Press.)

Newport, Ind., Dec. 16.—The story of how a Terre Haute minister gave up his pulpit and church following gossip involving women in his congregation may figure in a sensational divorce suit brought by O. E. Mark, former pastor of the Terre Haute Centenary M. E. church beginning here today. Mark charges cruelty and blames his down fall to gossip by his wife.

Mark, in less than three days time resigned as head of one of the largest and most influential churches in Terre Haute, stepped down as president of the Terre Haute Ministerial association and resigned as a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Indiana Northwestern conference.

Mrs. Mark, by filing a cross complaint, said to contain sensational charges, indicated that she might bring to light some of the alleged scandal connected with her husband name.

Mark secretly filed his divorce suit Dec. 12, 1914 while he was still pastor of the church. It was venue from the Vigo superior court to the Parke circuit court and from there here. In a letter authorized to be published by the Rev. James G. Campbell superintendent of the M. E. church it was stated that Mark, in a letter to Dr. Campbell, explained that he resigned as a Methodist pastor because he was "suing for divorce on other than disciplinary grounds."

Mark, while pastor, championed the cause of Donn Roberts former mayor of Terre Haute, convicted of election corruption.

Mark has substituted "Attorney At Law" for "Rev." and a name plate on the door at his office in Los Angeles, Calif., bears that inscription. Marks asks for the custody of his son, Frank L., 18, formerly a student at DePauw university, on the grounds that he is his son's fit guardian.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank were married Oct. 27, 1895 in the east. Mark was known as "the handsomest minister in Terre Haute."

An Exclusive Decoration.
Among the most inaccessible of decorations is the Grand Cross of the Russian Order of St. George, founded by Catherine the Great in 1769. In all its history of more than 150 years there have been but four Russians to receive the grand cross. The first was the Empress Catherine herself, who assumed it ex officio. The late Grand Duke Michael Nicolaievitch, having received the inferior grades in the Crimean and Caucasus wars, was awarded the grand cross for his achievements as commander in chief of the Russian army in Asia Minor during the war with Turkey in 1877. His brother, Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, was on the same occasion elected a knight grand cross of the order for his victorious leadership of the Russian forces in Europe to San Stefano, within sight of the walls of Constantinople, while Czar Alexander II. was persuaded by the knights of the order to don its grand cross on the occasion of the celebration of the centennial of its foundation.

Giraffes and Telephone Wires.
At a recent meeting of the Institution of Electrical Engineers in London W. L. Preece told of the damage done to telephone systems in the tropics by animals. The giraffes in East Africa, he said, have not sense enough to duck their heads when they find a telephone or telegraph wire across their tracks, but push on and carry the wires and sometimes the poles with them. White ants eat the telegraph poles if these are of any wood but teak. He showed a telephone instrument that had been used as a hive by bees, which entered by the slot for the switch hook and formed inside a comb that was renewed as often as it was cleared away by the engineers. Spiders also destroy the insulation by spinning over the wires webs that when saturated by dew reduce the insulation resistance to a few ohms.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

FOREIGN DEVILS.

The Answer a Chinese Official Gave a British Consul.

In his book "Home Life in China" Isaac Taylor Headland gives an account of the Chinese superstitions regarding the foreigner, one of which has resulted in their calling him Kuei-tzu, or "devil." A very amusing story, says he, is told of a red haired, red whiskered, blue eyed British consul at Canton who was, as are most of the British officials, of an investigative disposition and was anxious to know why it was that the Chinese call us of the west "foreign devils." Now be it understood that the Chinese idea of a demon is that he is a red haired, red bearded, blue eyed being who quails at nothing that comes in his way. One day when a Chinese official was calling on the consul the latter asked him:

"Why is it that the Chinese call us devils?"

The official at first hesitated, but, being pressed, he finally said, "I do not care to tell you."

"But I should take it as a great favor if you would tell me. I am very anxious to know."

"I cannot tell you," said the official.

"Why not?" asked the consul.

"Because you would be angry if I told you."

"By no means. I would not be so unreasonable as to ask you a question and then be offended because you answered it. On the other hand, I should be greatly obliged to you."

Being thus pressed until he was unable to refuse, the official finally eyed the consul from head to foot and said slowly and reluctantly, "Well, it is because you look like devils."

This natural superstition of the people was taken hold of by the Boxers in 1900 and circulated still more widely by all kinds of placards, both in prose and verse. I have one before me in verse, a part of which, translated, read as follows:

The devils are not human beings like you.
If you doubt what I say
You may see any day
That the eyes of the devils in color are blue.

WEIGH THEIR HATS.

A Fad of Fussy Men Who Are Cranks in the Matter of Headwear.

In the back part of a Broadway hatter's store there is a pair of scales that are used only in the case of particular demands by particular customers. As a general thing you don't look for scales in a hatter's, and the proprietor explained his reason for having them in this way:

"You will often find very fussy men when it comes to buying a hat. With them the weight of headgear is of prime importance. An ounce more or less gives them the fidgets when they have made a rule of life to wear only such and such weights on their heads. So I keep the scales to convince them. It is well that I do. It has settled many an argument with a grinch and sold me many a hat."

"You may call them queer for wanting the exact weight they call for or within and not over that weight; but, come to think it over, they are not any queerer than the men who rush in here at the beginning of summer demanding summer headgear because they simply can't endure their heavy winter hats any longer."

"Well, they buy a straw and go away perfectly satisfied they are prepared for summer heat. And the hat they buy? Why, by actual weight on these very scales it often weighs two to four ounces more than the winter hat they have been wearing. One of our good customers has regularly shifted from a twelve ounce winter slouch to a fifteen ounce summer straw and has been happy in the change."

It is a fact, however, that thousands of men know the truth of what the Broadway hatter says, but still buy heavy straws.—New York Sun.

Is Your Stomach Clogged With Waste?

Johnson's Drug Store Guarantees to Return the Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Relieve You.

"It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when the customers come in afterward and tell us how much good it has done them," said Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists to a Daily Republican man, "that is why we like to sell and recommend Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy. Johnson's Drug Store have so much faith in this article that they are going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of Mi-o-na whom it does not help. That may seem rash but the customers have said so many good words in its favor that they do not expect to have many packages returned."

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at their store and take home a box of Mi-o-na and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money."

This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since Johnson's Drug Store introduced it in Rushville shows that it does all that it is claimed to do—relieves dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables them who use it to eat what they want with no fear of trouble after.

READVERTISE FOR PRINTING BIDS

County Commissioners Decide Levy
Brothers Want Too Much Money
For the Annual Contract.

COMPETITION IS NEEDED

Set December 28 For Receiving New Estimates and Also to Allow Contract For Poor Supplies.

The county commissioners desire a little competition among the firms wanting the contract for the public printing for next year. Because of this the bid of Levy Brother, the only one received yesterday was turned down and the commissioners readvertised for bids, naming December 28 as the time for receiving them.

The commissioners were not exactly satisfied with the bid received yesterday. The price asked by Levy Brothers was higher than the year before and the commissioners believed that a little competition would result in a better price. The commissioners have done a little investigating of their own and have found that the surrounding counties get their printing cheaper than is charged Rush county. The firm bidding yesterday has had a clear field here for several years and with a little competition the commissioners believed that a better price would result.

Before adjourning the commissioners also established December 28 as the time for receiving bids for supplies at the poor farm for the next quarter.

The bond of Voorhees Cavitt, who will take the office of sheriff for two more years beginning January 1, was approved. The bond was in the sum of $5,000 with John Wallace, A. J. Ross and Oliver M. Siler as surety.

The contractor on the Frank Moore, et al., road was given an extension of time until June 1, 1916 to complete the road.

The commissioners accepted as part of the free gravel road system of the county one and seven-tenths miles of highway running north from Raleigh, petitioned for by Mart Clawson, et al. This piece of highway has been made to conform with other accepted highways and now becomes a part of the free gravel road system of the county.

Notice to Bidders

And also coal for court house heating plant. Bidder to state price on Mine Run and various screened sizes of Indiana coal, F. O. B. Rushville, Indiana.

And also supplies for County Officials for year 1916 as per estimate on file in Auditor's office. $2000 bond required.

Board reserves right to reject any and all bids.

Witness my hand this 16th day of December, 1916.

CHRISTMAS MUSINGS.
There are warmer handshakes on this night than during the past twelve months. Friend lives in the mind of friend. There is more charity at this time than at any other. Poverty and scanty clothing and fireless grates come home to the bosoms of the rich, and they give of their abundance. The very redbreast of the woods enjoys his Christmas feast. Good feeling incarnates itself in plum pudding. The Master's words, "The poor have ye always with you," wear at this time a deep significance. For at least one night on each year over all Christendom there is brotherhood. And good men, sitting amongst their families, or by a solitary fire, when they remember the bright light that shone over the poor downy huddling on the Bethlehem plains 1900 years ago, the apparition of shining angels overhead, the song "Peace on earth and good will toward men," which for the first time hallowed the midnight air—pray for that strain's fulfillment, that battle and strife may vex the nations no more, that not only on Christmas eve, but the whole year round men shall be brethren, owning one father in heaven.

YOUTH PASSES FORGED CHECKS

Cletis Miller, Age 17, a Farm Laborer, Gets $24 on Four Here and $10 on One at Connersville.

EMPLOYED BY JOHN A. GRAY

Worthless Paper Made Payable to Him and Name of Employer Forged Them—He Disappears.

After successfully passing four forged checks for six dollars each here and one at Connersville for ten dollars, Cletis Miller, age seventeen years, who was employed by John A. Gray on his farm east of here, has disappeared.

The checks were made out to Miller and the name of Mr. Gray was forged to all of them. After making repeated attempts to cash checks, Miller succeeded in getting money at Hale's five and ten cent store, A. G. Haydon's hardware store, Fox Brothers' drug store and Homer Havens' grocery store.

Miller first tried to cash a forged check for six dollars at the Peoples National bank, where Mr. Gray does business. Carl Webb, at the bank, immediately saw that the signature on the check was not that of Mr. Gray's and refused to give the boy the money.

Miller tried at the O. P. C. H. and Cox's shoe store before he went to Hale's store. Mrs. Hale, who has not been in business here long enough to be widely acquainted, inquired about the signature, but did not question the authenticity of the check.

Mrs. Hale did not discover that the check was worthless until she went to deposit it the next day after she had cashed it. Then she was informed at the bank that it was not worth the paper it was written on because the signature was not that of Mr. Gray's. While Mrs. Hale was in the bank, Mr. Gray entered and he denied that he had ever written the check.

At the same time, too, the forged check which was passed in Connersville by the boy, was received in the mail and Mr. Gray said that he had never written it either.

Mr. Gray was quoted as saying that Miller was a good farm laborer and that he had always been reliable. He came from South Carolina to this place last summer and had been employed by Mr. Gray. It is thought he returned to his former home.

It is said to be the belief of those interested that the boy is not capable of such a crime by himself but that the stage was all set for him and he was persuaded to violate the law.

"WAR" TAX LIKELY TO BE CONTINUED

Motion to Facilitate Passage of Emergency Revenue Measure Passed House, 208 to 192.

MUCH ORATORY IS SET FREE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 16.—Enactment of resolutions continuing present "war taxes" through 1916 was indicated this afternoon in the first test vote during a sharp parliamentary fight between the Republican and Democratic forces. A motion designed to facilitate the passage of the measure won, 208 to 192, three Democrats voting with the Republicans.

The house resounded with oratory while the debate in the emergency revenue measure. The tax was necessary, asserted Republican leader Mann and due only to Democratic incompetency in the matter of tariff making.

The senate finance committee today reported favorably on the war emergency tax. The measure will be up for action in the senate tomorrow.

FILE MOTIONS TO QUASH INDICTMENTS

Mrs. Inez Knotts and William West Assign Faulty Dates as Cause For Asking Dismissal.

MOTION TO BE ARGUED SOON

Faulty dates is the reason assigned for wanting the indictments against Mrs. Inez Knotts and William West quashed. Both are charged with breaking the Sabbath. In the motion to quash it is pointed out that the dates set forth in the indictments charges them with breaking Sunday, November 24, and alleges that this does not constitute a public offense because November 24 was on Wednesday.

A similar indictment against Isaac Knotts was not attacked because the date in it was correct to correspond on Sunday. The motion to quash will be argued soon. These indictments were returned at the same time the one charging Mr. and Mrs. Knotts with operating a public nuisance. They will be tried on this charge next Tuesday.

SENDS 30 CENTS RELIEVES MIND FOR AUDITORIUM

Indianapolis Man, Conscience-Stricken, Pays Admission Fee and Interest to Fair Association.

AS LAD STOLE IN 20 YEARS AGO

Quote Scripture Frequently in Letter Accompanying Coin, Evidently Having "Got" Religion.

The Rush County Fair association is thirty cents ahead today as that sum in "conscience money" was received by J. V. Young, former treasurer of the association, from an Indianapolis man, whose name is withheld. In the letter in which the money was enclosed the man states that he slipped in the fair about twenty years ago, thus beating the association out of twenty-five cents. The added five cents was sent as interest.

The man sending the "conscience money" has evidently "got" a lot of religion since slipping in the fair as he quotes the Bible frequently in the letter. The letter is self-explanatory and is quoted in full as follows: "Treasurer of Rush Co. Fair Assn., Rushville, Ind.

Dear Sir—The law of compensation and retribution is as sure to act as the sun is to shine. What so ever a man soweth that shall he also reap. It is appointed unto man once to die and after that the judgment, and we shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body."

"Some twenty years ago the writer when only a lad some ten or eleven years of age cheated the Rush County Fair Association out of 25 cents admittance. It happen in this way. My father and mother, two of God's own children permitted me to go to the fair with some cousins of mine, who having no seeming convictions of right and wrong suggested that I crawl under a large carriage seat as we went in the game and thus save my money. I yielded to the temptation and stole the quarter from you.

"Since that time I found Jesus precious to my soul and tarried with Jesus until my soul was filled with love divine and purged of the dross by the Holy Ghost, thus injecting into my soul a desire to right every wrong possible that I have ever done. What I can't make right, Jesus has forgiven and God has erased it from my record never to be remembered against me no more. Thank God for the old time religion!

"While thinking over my past life the incident of which I write came into my memory, therefore I am herewith enclosing 25 cents and 5 cents interest, thus straightening my record with you. Please accept same and forgive my transgression for I expect to meet Jesus with clean hands and a pure heart.

"If you are not a Bible Christian may God stir up your soul and cause you to inquire 'Where shall my dying soul spend eternity?'

"I shall some day meet you in the general judgment and then you shall appear as a witness that I have cleared my soul of guilt in this matter.

"With a heart full of divine love, I am your friend."

MOVIE MACHINE FOR AUDITORIUM

High School Faculty Also Spends Sum For Gymnasium Equipment in New Graham Annex.

MONEY FOR SPECIAL FUNDS

Parent-Teachers Association Will Present Agreement to School Board, it is Decided.

The athletic committee of the high school faculty met Wednesday night and opened bids on equipment for the gymnasium at the Graham Annex. Paraphernalia amounting to $205 was ordered and it is expected that about $50 more will be spent for the same purpose. The committee has already invested $70 in bleacher seats for the gymnasium to be used for basketball games. The money used if from a special athletic fund that has been growing for some time. The fund was created with the proceeds from several home talent plays and entertainments which were given for the benefit of the new gymnasium. The school board will make an appropriation for equipment if the special fund is not sufficient.

It was also announced today that a motion picture machine for the Graham Annex auditorium had been ordered and will be installed by January 1. Walter Easley, owner of the Princess theater was expected at the auditorium this afternoon to give advice regarding the location of the machine. Moving pictures will be furnished once each month by the Chicago Record Herald and it is expected films can also be obtained from several universities. The machine is equipped so that stationary views may also be shown with it. The machine was also purchased from a special fund, part of which was the proceeds from Mrs. Demarehus Brown's lecture class last winter.

The Parent-teachers association of the public schools held a meeting with the school board Wednesday afternoon late to make tentative plans for the use of the Graham Annex auditorium after Christmas. It is understood that the association heard the ideas of the school board regarding the public use of the auditorium and that the meeting closed with the understanding that the Association should draw up an agreement which would be submitted to the board for the signatures of the members.

The Parent-teachers association wants to take over the auditorium and have complete charge of it. In that event, in case there were any desired to use the auditorium it would be necessary to consult the association. Whatever revenue would be derived from the rental of the auditorium, it is stated, would be used for school purposes.

ALL COMING IN AND NOTHING GOING OUT

This is Condition of Goodfellows League Today When Forty Names Are Added to List.

PLENTY OF WORK TO BE DONE

Everything was coming in and nothing going out today with the Goodfellows League. No Good Fellows appeared to take any of the League's wards to give them a merry Christmas. Another district of the city was heard from and forty more names of little folks were added to the list. This makes a total of seventy yet to be cared for. There is still another district out yet, which may be expected to yield just as many names as the one reported today. In that event there are over a hundred estimated to be taken care of yet.

So it is very evident that Good Fellows need not be idle. There is plenty of work to be done and only one week will elapse until Christmas will be here and the League will close its books for another season. Good Fellows had better arrange now to get into the work so there will be no uncertainty about the little wards going Christmasless.

TRACTION COMPANY WINS DAMAGE SUIT

Takes Only Fifteen Minutes For Jury to Decide Case in Which John W. Bever Sought $800.

ONLY TWO BALLOTS TAKEN

The jury hearing the case of John W. Bever against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company was out 15 minutes in returning a verdict for the traction company. The closing argument was made this morning and the court's instructions were read following the noon adjournment. The jury took two ballots, the first standing 10 to 2 in favor of the defendant. On the next ballot the verdict was reached.

The case was a long drawn out affair occupying the attention of court for four days. The amount involved was $800. Bever asked this amount in damages from the wreck of an automobile in an accident in Connersville. The complaint alleged negligence on the part of the defendant company. Geo. W. Thomas was foreman of the jury.

SECOND NOTE IS CONSIDERED

Preliminary Outline of Austrian Reply Pronounced Evasive And Unsatisfactory

NO REASONS TO BE GIVEN

Unofficial Report Says Answer Was Cabled to Berne And Will be Forwarded Here

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 16.—Austria must directly comply or refuse in every respect the demands of the United States in the Ancona case.

With reports indicating the Austro-Hungarian government is playing for time in asking for details the American government may possess regarding the attack on the liner, in a reply handed Ambassador Penfield, this attitude was outlined in detail today by an official who has advised Secretary Lansing on every step taken in the case.

It was also pointed out in diplomatic circles that the United States has a precedent to point to if necessary in refusing to give further reasons for the demands made on the Austrian government.

If Austria regards her course with regard to Serbia which brought about the European war, as justified, then Vienna can not insist that the United States furnish details on which demands for approval, reparation and punishment of the submarine commander were based, according to the belief in some circles.

It was pointed out that Austria has already admitted the Ancona was torpedoed while standing still. Only the most positive assurance from Vienna to this government that the Austrian government has proof that this report was wrong will be acceptable as basis for delay.

A report at the state department today said the Austrian note, replying to American demands concerning the Ancona was cabled to Berne, Switzerland, last night, to be forwarded from here today. It was expected to reach Washington tonight.

Another and more pre-emptory demand for disavowal of the Ancona sinking was under consideration today. Preliminary outlines of Austria's reply to the American note, reported delivered to Ambassador Penfield were pronounced evasive and unsatisfactory.

In this government's second note Austria is to be curily informed immediate compliance with American demands is insisted upon. Further reasons for demanding the disavowal are not likely to be given.

RELATIVES IN SHOTGUN DUEL

C. C. Henry, 55, Perhaps Fatally Shot by Son-in-Law, Gamaliel Lockridge, Near Madison.

QUARREL OVER MANAGEMENT

Lockridge is so Badly Shot That Amputation of One Arm Will be Necessary to Save Life.

Madison, Ind., Dec. 16.—In a duel with shotguns, which took place in Monroe township late Wednesday afternoon, twelve miles north of here, near the county line, Gamaliel Lockridge, 40 years old, suffered a shattered left hand and forearm and his father-in-law, C. C. Henry, 55 years old, received a charge of shot in the hip and side that will probably cause his death. Lockridge lived on the farm of his father-in-law and the two men quarreled over the management of the place.

Word of the shooting reached here Wednesday evening from the locality, which is remote and difficult to reach by telephone.

Lockridge was driven several miles by his wife to Dupont, this county, and then was rushed to North Vernon in an automobile for a surgical operation. Henry was removed to his home and a later report says he can not survive.

Both men are well-to-do farmers. No action will be taken by the authorities until the result of the men's injuries is known.

Lockridge's arm was so badly shattered that amputation at the elbow will be necessary.

Lockridge, who is 30 years old, has been living on the farm of his father-in-law in Monroe township and the men have had trouble over a potato crop. The dispute was renewed today when the ownership of a quantity of firewood was in question. Both men obtained shotguns and they met in Henry's barnyard. Lockridge declares his father-in-law fired the first shot and that he returned the fire, wounding Henry in the side. A charge from Henry's gun shattered Lockridge's arm, compelling amputation.

The condition of Henry is critical and it is believed that, because of his age, he can not survive.

The families have been residents of Jefferson county about ten years.

Stamp Out a Scourge

The total sales of Red Cross Christmas seals in 1907 amounted to $125,000. In 1908 the sales increased to $230,000 and the year following to $310,000. Last season more than 35,000,000 seals were sold and with a perfected organization this year the national Red Cross expects greatly to exceed and previous sale.

The few pennies spent for them by the average individual may seem to represent an almost negligible force, but when millions of like sums are added together even the money value of the campaign assumes a powerful significance.

These financial proceeds represent only a small part of the services rendered by the little seals, however. It is their educational value that justifies their sudden rise to the dignity of a national institution.

Wherever used they do far more than carry a message of good will. Alike to those who send and those who receive them, they say, almost as plainly as if they had power of speech, "Consumption can be conquered."

"We could stamp out even the scourge of tuberculosis within a very few years if only we could educate every one regarding it," said Doctor Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin. "Knowledge is the deadliest shot that can be fired against disease of any sort."

So, by carrying to the remotest corners of great cities as well as to the wide country itself, the message that consumption not only is curable under certain conditions, but preventable, these Red Cross seals are reaching the people in a way that no other message could. For their first appeal is to the heart; and that helps them to surmount all barriers, such as lack of intelligence and differing languages.

They come as annual reminders of a prime duty—that of stamping out the most destructive of diseases.

Not only do they remind us of this duty but in a forceful way they show us how it may be accomplished. For while each of these little seals is, in itself, relatively unimportant as a weapon, the millions which are sold and bought each year represent a force that is far reaching and pregnant with benefits.

All the evidence brought to Washington by members of Congress points to the general dissatisfaction of the country with the policies and the personnel of the Administration. Republicans, naturally, proclaim the fact; and Democrats, privately, admit it. Republican difficulties in the next campaign can come only from within the party. Wise action in Congress, a judicious selection of the ticket, a satisfactory declaration of principles in the platform—these will make assurance doubly sure. There is no doubt that the Republican party will respond to these needs, as it always has, satisfactorily to the country.

Washington dispatches says that Democrats of the house, in caucus assembled, agreed to support a resolution designed to extend the life of the present emergency tax, commonly known as the "war-in-time-of-peace" tax, until December 31, 1916, or for one year. Now isn't that wholesome news when one is spending all that can be scraped together for Christmas gifts?

Champ Clark declares himself in favor of "reasonable" preparedness. This convenient term is proving itself a most elastic ambush for statesmen who want to be on the winning side. The Supreme Court once said something about the "rule of reason" as applied in trust litigation. Maybe we can get a judicial interpretation of what constitutes "reasonable" preparedness.

The financial sharps of the Treasury Department believe that their proposed tax on gasoline will produce $27,000,000 a year. This may be so. And every time a motorist has his gasoline tank filled he will register anew his vow to vote against the party that put the tax on.

The Administration "was at the high tide of popularity" six months ago; "since then there has been a steady ebb," says the New York "Globe." There may be some disagreement over the date, but there is none as to the facts.

That Mascott squirrel delivered to the Ford party just before sailing certainly won't go hungry.

What has become of the old-fashioned women who used to wear men's collars and cravats?

One begins to surmise that Mr. Justice Hughes would rather be justice than president.

There is less crime in Britain as a result of the war. But there is more war.

"Women have peace aim," says headline. Well, it's 100 to 1 they'll miss it.

Now won't some other philanthropist organize a peace ship for Mexico?

Philadelphia has once more its pets, the liberty bell and Boise Penrose.

Europe's war has strained the quality of mercy and of veracity as well.

King Hunger has a way of pushing other monarchs off their thrones.

Russia has again enlisted the services of its oldest ally—winter.

CAMPAIGN IS A RECORD BREAKER

Reports From Every Section of State Indicate This Year Will Exceed All Others.

MANY COUNTIES REVIVED

On December 10 Many Localities Report Sales Greater Than Total of 1916.

From every section of Indiana come reports to the effect that the Red Cross Seal campaign this year is a record breaker. While the sale of these cheery little holiday greeting bearers, issued by the American Red Cross for the war on tuberculosis has grown steadily year by year, 1915 bids fair to exceed 1914 by a far wider margin than 1914 exceeded any previous year.

Counties that heretofore have indicated but little interest in Red Cross seals, now are clamoring for seals faster than the state headquarters can supply them. The demand has been so great, that for the first time since its organization, the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has been swamped with orders for seals, that it couldn't fill. Already nearly 6,000,000 seals have been distributed in Indiana to local anti-tuberculosis societies, women's clubs, sororities, groups of Camp Fire Girls, King's Daughters and others interested in the work. This is more than a million in excess of the number distributed in an entire campaign in any previous year.

Many localities on December 10 reported a total sale equal to or greater than the local sale in 1914. Business men are using the seals in greater quantities this year and reports from school authorities indicate that the number of children engaged in the campaign this year is greater by several thousand than ever before.

Anti-tuberculosis workers throughout the state have been greatly encouraged by the announcement that results very much worth while are being obtained in Indiana as the result of the intensive fight that is being waged against the "white plague." It is shown that in 1904, the total deaths from consumption in Indiana were 5,178, compared with 4,077 in 1914 despite an increase of approximately a quarter of a million in population.

With the unprecedented success of the Red Cross seal campaign this year, it is expected that still greater inroads will be made on tuberculosis during the next few months.

The policy of the organized anti-tuberculosis movement in Indiana, is "Prevention rather than Cure." Thus it will be found that a great proportion of the Red Cross seal fund will be used in a broadening of the educational campaign through the schools of the state, and by means of literature, exhibits and newspaper publicity as well as by lectures in moving picture shows, churches, the schools and other meeting places where the public generally congregates.

The Vatican.
The Vatican was not originally intended as a place of residence. Comparatively a small part of it is now residential; the remainder serves the purposes of science, art and the administration of the Catholic church. Of the 1,000 rooms in the great palace 200 serve as residences for the pope, secretary of state and the other high officials of the church.

Caught With the Goods.
"How do you happen to be in prison, my poor friend?"
"Because I was a man of property, mum."
"I don't understand."
"Yes, see, mum, it wuz other people's property."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Gray Buzzards.
The gray buzzard, now almost extinct, is said to be the heaviest bird that flies, the young male when food is plentiful weighing nearly forty pounds.

WALTER OLDS WITHDRAWS

Senatorial Candidate Announces he Will Support New.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 16.—Walter Olds of Ft. Wayne today issued a statement in which he announced that he had withdrawn from the race for Republican nomination for United States senator and will support H. S. New, Jas. E. Watson's chief opponent, who announced himself after Hugh Th. Miller of Columbus withdrew.

Most Awkward.
An old, steady going farmer was accustomed to ride to the market town upon a rather bad tempered horse. One day his man Bob brought the animal, which was especially vicious that morning, to the door, the horse trying to bite and kick and giving a good deal of trouble.

The farmer mounted the horse with some difficulty and began to walk it out of the yard when Bob, who still entertained ill feeling against the animal, picked up a stone and flung it at him with all his force; but, alas, his aim was erratic, and the missile struck his master on the head.

Half dazed for a moment, the farmer turned slowly in his saddle, and, not suspecting the real cause of the blow, he measured with his eye the horse's hind hoofs and his own head and, setting himself in the saddle again, started off with the remark, "Well, he allus was an okard beggar."—London Mail.

Karlruhe's First Family.
Sleepy Karlruhe is amusingly depicted by Sir Horace Rumbold, who passed a dull part of his diplomatic career there. He found Karlruhe society entirely composed of half a dozen families of long descent and small means, who had intermarried for generations. Whoever was not a Gemmingen was a Hardenberg or a Duerckheim or an Amerongen. Talleyrand had a tale of his first visit to the Karlruhe theater. "Who is that lady in the third box on the first tier?" "That is a Gemmingen," said the young native who accompanied him. "And that general in the stalls?" "Also a Gemmingen." At last Talleyrand exclaimed, "Why, you all seem to be Gemmingens!" "Yes," said the youth in German-French, "but all are not good Gemmingens. I am a good Gemmingen—Gemmingen-Gemmingen-Gutenberg!"—London Standard.

Ben Franklin's Chair.
In his old age Benjamin Franklin's health failed him to a considerable extent. He suffered from gout and the stone, which, with complications, eventually carried him off. But he was always exceedingly cheerful, even when suffering, and, as one of his friends has recorded, "full of anecdotes and learning." Even at this time in his life he added to the already extensive list of his inventions, contriving among other things a most curious chair which, when desired, could be converted into a step ladder for the purpose of reaching the higher shelves in a library. As far as known, only one of these chairs was ever actually constructed for his own particular use, and this is owned at present by the Philosophical society of Philadelphia.

Rain.
There are so many things worse than rain that we refuse to fret about it. If we had the toothache every other day for two months straight we might growl. If an amateur cornetist lived next door and practiced regularly we should complain; if bills were sent in once a week instead of once a month; if boots never went home; if all friendship were mercenary and false in adversity; if sickness visited us oftener and stayed longer than health; if malicious people were many and the kind few we might justifiably be miserable and remain so.
But so long as so many worse things that could be don't arrive it can rain every day if it wants to. Most of our joy is weather proof.—Detroit Free Press.

FOR BRONCHITIS SEVERE COUGHS COLDS AND WHOOPING COUGH

Make the Best Medicine at Home—128 Teaspoonfuls For 50 Cents.
Money spent for the old, stale, made medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 24 ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonfuls) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to Fox Bros. Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expecto-rant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonsful.) This new, simple pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough home-made medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist, in fact any druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as is done with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee.

JAYWALKER ADDS TO PUBLIC DANGER

Careless Walking and Reckless Auto Drivers Responsible For Large Per Cent of Accidents.

START CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 16.—A careless walking public and reckless auto drivers are responsible for most of the auto killings and other accidents on the streets of American cities, in the opinion of Police Commissioner Woods of New York City. Campaigns against jaywalking and reckless driving have been inaugurated in New York and many other cities recently.

"The only remedy for this condition," said Commissioner Woods today, "is the education of the public, centralization in the authorities of control over chauffeurs, the improvement of traffic conditions and the streets."

"Arrests and fines have failed to teach drivers anything. The courts have been too lenient with those offenders. This however, does not excuse the pedestrian's carelessness. The jaywalker, or person who crosses the street between blocks increases public danger; decreases police protection and tends generally to prevent the recovery of damages in case of injury."

SALE OF PROPERTY

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned commissioner under an order of the Rush Circuit court will sell at the law office of Hall & Campbell, in the City of Rushville, Indiana, on Tuesday, January 11th, 1916,

at ten o'clock a. m., five residence properties and a gas well on Harrison street in the City of Rushville. Said property is a part of the estate of Lucinda Caldwell, deceased. Bids will be received on said property as a whole, also separately and in parcels.

The gas well has a strong pressure and will furnish gas for quite a number of residence properties and bids will be received on the gas well separately, also in connection with the bids on the residence properties.

This will be a splendid opportunity for an investment at a bargain in either of the residence properties and the gas well separately or sold together as a whole.

TERMS OF SALE will be made very reasonable and to suit the convenience of the respective purchasers.

Holland and Herring.

To the sea the Dutch owe most of their wealth. The art of curing herring was discovered by a poor Dutch fisherman, William Beukels, in 1350, who found that the fish which they caught in great abundance could be smoked and salted away in kegs and then transported to the ends of the world in good condition. Such a trade resulted that it was said that "Amsterdam is built on herring bones." Several hundred years after the death of Beukels the emperor, Charles V., went to the tomb of the fisherman and there ate a herring in gratitude for the invention. And in a church in Biervliet today may be seen a stained glass window in honor of this man. Herring have been one of the chief means of trade to the Hollanders, so that even at the present day the first catch is taken to the royal palace in a coach and six.

Concerning the Dolomites.

The fairyland about Cortina is familiar to thousands of tourists as "The Dolomites." Dolomite, a rock compounded of carbonate of lime and carbonate of magnesite, takes its name from the French geologist Deodat de Grätet, Marquis de Dolomieu, who spent his time in 1789 and the following years, while his countrymen were busy with revolution and war, in visiting this and other Alpine districts. He first mentions this kind of rock in 1791, and the word "Dolomite" first occurs in a pamphlet of 1802 describing a tour of his in the Alps about the St. Gothard and the Simplon. The curious point, noted by Mr. Coolidge, is that the marquis seems to have paid no attention to the dolomite rocks in the neighborhood of his own home, Dolomieu, near Grenoble.—London Mirror.

The Familiar Unknown.

Things you see every day and never notice form a favorite topic with those who probe curiously into our deficiencies. The watch trick is perhaps an open secret by now, and yet you may fail in reproducing the Roman figures that you confront in all moods many times a day. Can you describe the aspect of a shilling, which I hope you see as many times a day, or a penny postage stamp? I am sure that any postal maiden could sell me a dozen penny stamps with the wrong head on them and send me away contented. And yesterday I met a man who had lived for years in happiness on Haverstock hill and couldn't tell me the number of steps that led to the front door of his own house.—London Spectator.

SUBMARINE'S ACTION PRAISED

Statement of Vienna Admiralty Defends Commander of Submarine That Sunk Ancona

UNITED STATES IS DEFILED

Says His Report Has Been Received And There is no Fault to be Found With it.

Vienna, Dec. 14, (by courier to Berlin, via London, Dec. 15).—The Austro-Hungarian Admiralty is entirely opposed to any disavowal of the course of the submarine commander who was responsible for the sinking of the Italian steamer Ancona. On the contrary, it approves his conduct fully and declared that he would have been considered as having failed to perform his duty if he had allowed the Ancona to escape. The Admiralty today stated its case and the attitude of the naval authorities as follows:

"It is a submarine commander's duty to make a report to a designated base as soon as possible and the commander who sank the Ancona did this as soon as he was within wireless distance. He made a supplementary report at Pola and accompanied it with his log. No examination of the crew was held because the commander's report was considered complete and there was no reason to suppose that the crew could add anything thereto.

"So far as the commander is concerned his course is clear. The Admiralty has received his report and sees no reason to find any fault with his course of action.

"If any such reason existed; that is if the Admiralty had found that the commander had done anything contrary to his instructions, it would spontaneously institute an investigation against him without waiting for any demand to come from some foreign government. It can happen that a commander in heat of battle deals contrary to instructions, but nothing of the kind has occurred in this case.

"It appears clearly from his report that his ship was in danger, indeed in double danger, first from the fact that an enemy boat was approaching on a line that threatened to cut off his retreat and the enemy ship and the Ancona could have established his radius of action and could have set a torpedo boat flotilla on him; and second there was danger of the Ancona escaping, which, according to his instructions, was to be prevented in all circumstances. Hence the conduct of the commander much as the loss of innocent lives must be regretted and deplored, can not be disapproved.

"On the contrary, if he had departed without destroying the Ancona it would have been failure to do his duty, since the Ancona could have notified other ships of his whereabouts. The loss of American lives is regrettable, as well as the fact that Americans used a vessel belonging to a nation at war with Austria-Hungary."

for prompt disavowal of the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona in her reply to the American note.

Vienna dispatches today said the Austrian reply was delivered to Ambassador Penfield. It contains a request for more time and further negotiations. Austria, according to reports, makes no reply to the American demand that the commander of the submarine be punished. There is every reason to believe that Austria will never consent to this step.

The tone of the note, however, is conciliatory.

All Money Good in Canada.

There is no place in the world where money is under less supervision than in Canada. The coins in circulation there are not confined to the Dominion. British halfpennies and pennies, circulate as freely as the cents, and United States coins of all descriptions are accepted as equal in value to the Canadian coins, though the United States refuses to handle the coins of the Dominion on its own side of the border. In the course of a busy day in Canada you are not surprised to meet coinage of many nations. Sometimes you get finds. A correspondent, who is an amateur coin collector, tells me he got among his change a beautiful specimen of a farthing of the reign of George III, and an hour or two afterward he became the possessor of an old Irish halfpenny over 100 years old, with the harp on one side. Probably these two coins had been carefully preserved, but poverty induced the proprietors to part with them.—London Chronicle.

Then There Was a Shakeup.

Some years ago the Italian minister of foreign affairs, Signor Prinetti, asked his majesty King Victor Emmanuel to sign a decree for the augmentation of the staff of the foreign office. The king promised to think the matter over and the next morning set out alone on foot to pay a visit to the office. Arriving at 9 o'clock, he found no one there. A long search unearthed a solitary clerk who was smoking cigarettes.

"What are the hours of this office?" asked the king.

"From 8 to 12," was the reply.

"And when may I expect to see your colleagues?"

"They generally turn up about 11."

"Very well. When your chief comes tell him the king has been here."

And then his majesty sent for Signor Prinetti and suggested that instead of asking for more clerks he should make it his business to see that those already on the staff attended to their duties.

MILLION MEN WOULD BE READY

Estimates of War Department Show
That U. S. Could Raise Large
Army if Call Came.

MOST OF THEM EXPERIENCED

Present Army Enlistment Plans Calls
For Three Years Service And
Four in Reserve

(By United Press.)
Washington, Dec. 16.—There are a million men in the United States
who could respond to the colors in some form of military usefulness,
if the call came.

These are national guardsmen and ex-national guardsmen still of military age; who have received training under authorized army officers
in universities. There also are young men drilled under military men in high and private schools, and ex-U. S. marines who have had land training.

Officers of the U. S. army admit
this would be a highly convenient
army nucleus in time of emergency,
but the government doesn't know where any of these men are except
the national guardsmen.

Roughly estimated there are 500,000 national guardsmen and ex-
national guardsmen; over 175,000
army and navy "alumni" between 180,000 and 200,000 Spanish war
veterans and 75,000 college cadets.

War department figures show
there are now 8,705 officers and 120,- 693 enlisted men in the national guard. In the Spanish war, 223,235
volunteer officers and enlisted men
served. In the colleges last year, there were 32,000 who had drill, and
in the last 10 years 39,000 men have graduated who had been trained 2
years. Figures for ten years behind that easily make up the estimated
total of 75,000, army officers say.

As to the regular army alumni, an average of 13,000 re-enlist each year. The total for 1914 was 14,349.
Even with the loss through deaths
since discharge; incapacitations, removal to other countries and old age, the figure for 20 years should be 175,000 to 200,000 men.

Recent plans of enlistment in the war department call for three years
with the colors and four in reserve.
Before that, once a man's term of enlistment was up, the government
gave no more attention to him.

EXCERPT FROM SERMON AT SECOND M. E. CHURCH

The following is an excerpt from a sermon by Rev. J. L. Thompson in the revival at Second M. E. church:
My text is found in the eighth chapter of Romans, 32nd, verse. He that spared not his son but delivered him up for us all; how shall he not with him freely give us all things.

The Apostle Paul was inspired
and led by God word for word. If he was here today we might hope
to get the chief thought and understand these words better for Paul
has had over 1800 years to experience the things.

He spared not his son. God had some motion for sparing Jesus or these words are foolish. I will give you three reasons why he wanted
to spare him.

First: He was an honest innocent
man with wrong heaped upon him.

Second: He was God's own and
only son.

Third: He saw him begging—
Father if it be possible let this cup
pass. And yet he did not spare him
but delivered him up for us all.

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Seneco Tooth Paste. Seneco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Seneco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Seneco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Seneco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senecol Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as rational designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schrichte. J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS MONUMENTS 117-121 S. MAIN ST.

GLENWOOD WANTS JUSTICE OF PEACE

Town Board Will Take Steps to Get One Since Official Elected Did Not Qualify.

MEN HERE TO LEARN METHOD

The town of Glenwood wants a justice of peace and the most likely candidate for the position is Green Thompson. Glenwood is an incorporated town and has a town marshal, but there is no justice of peace, and thus there is no court there to try a case should an arrest be made.

At the last election a justice of peace was elected, but never qualified for office. Persons interested in the movement for a justice of peace were here yesterday consulting with County Attorney Wallace Morgan. Under the law the commissioners have the power to appoint a justice of the peace upon the presentation of a petition signed by two-thirds of the town board. It was stated that all of the town board is in favor of a justice of peace and that the petition would be presented to the commissioners either at the meeting December 28 or at the first regular meeting of the new year. The governor issues a certificate after the commissioners make the appointment.

John Bull.

The nickname John Bull is said to have appeared first in a satire by Dr. John Arbuthnot called "Law Is a Bottomless Pit; or, the History of John Bull," published in 1721. Washington Irving mentions the typical figure as a "sturdy, corpulent, old fellow with a red waistcoat, leather breeches and short, oaken cudgel. Many Napoleonic caricatures show John Bull represented in this way.

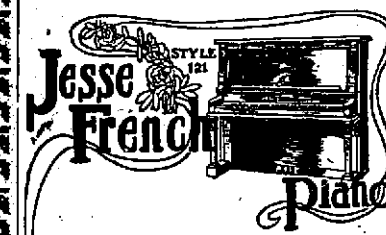

Mother Love.

"Mother machree," he said, "tis worn and torn your heart is for love of us all."
"Jerome avick," I said to that, "tis worn and torn the hearts of mothers were before me and will be again. God help their children if they're not."
—From "Mother Machree," by James H. Connolly, in Scribner's.

Height of Annoyance.

"I'm mad at my wife. To anger her I shall flirt with some other woman."
"If you want to make her absolutely furious ask some other woman to sew on a button for you."—Kansas City Journal.

McKEE'S CHANCES ARE SHATTERED

Announcement of Probable Selection of L. Ert Slack For District Attorney Spoils Prospects.

CONNERSVILLE MAN FAVORED

A story in the Connersville News last evening suggesting that David W. McKee of Connersville, well known member of the Fayette county bar who frequently practices here and has presided as special judge here, might be the successor to United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey, reported from Washington to have been picked by Senators Shively and Kern, was shattered this morning by the announcement in Washington dispatches that L. Ert Slack, of Indianapolis, formerly of Franklin was the choice of the senators.

While the story that Slack will be appointed is neither confirmed nor denied in Indianapolis, it is practically certain that he is the choice of the two Indiana senators for the place. Slack is well known in Rushville. He has spoken here in campaigns and gave the address at the joint lodge memorial a few summers ago.

The News based its belief that Mr. McKee might be the successor of Dailey on the fact that McKee was one prominently mentioned for the appointment at the time Dailey was named and because he and Senator Kern are fast friends.

THE FEZ AND THE OTTOMAN.

Colors Mean Much, and Only the Arab Foregoes the Tarboosh.

That stream of people crossing the Galata bridge, over the Golden Horn, runs red, for every Ottoman, except the Arab, must wear the tarboosh. "The man with a hat" means the foreigner. The way to see Constantinople without attracting attention to yourself is to slip on a tarboosh, but the wise foreigner has been slow thus to surrender the one visible token of his special extraterritorial rights, for when trouble is afoot the word goes out to spare "the man with a hat" because of the fear of international complications. During the reactionary revolution that followed on the heels of the constitution there was a ludicrous scramble on the part of the Greeks and other Christians to get beneath hats, and the sudden crop of silk hats and derbies was wonderful to behold.

Fashions in fezzes pass in review across the bridge. The Albanian has a white headdress—a cross between a fez and a skullcap. The Persian wears a huge black felt dome that is matched in size only by the big brown bulb that crowns the head of the dervish. The hadji, whose merit in having made the haj, or pilgrimage, to Mecca is proclaimed by his huge turban, is a frequent figure on the bridge, for every Moslem man who has the means and the physical strength is expected to visit the birthplace of the prophet at least once in his life. The elaborately wound headdress of the hadji is of white cloth, but a sayid's, or descendant of Mohammed, is of green. Sometimes the mosque officials, or imams, even when they are not of the prophet's blood, wear the green turban.

Only the men wear any sort of headgear. The oriental woman goes hatless. A cloth or veil is as much covering as she wears on her head. As I stood there on the bridge I saw a group of Turkish women stare through their thick veils at the hat of a foreign woman as she hastened by. Since Young Turkey has come into power western fashions are much in favor in Constantinople.—Youth's Companion.

Shocked Him.

"What did the boss do when you threatened to resign if he didn't raise your pay?"
"He surprised me."
"How?"
"He failed to show the slightest sign of alarm at the prospect of my leaving."—Detroit Free Press.

An Advantage.

"To what do you attribute your remarkable health?"
"Well," replied the very old gentleman, "I reckon I got a good start on most people by bein' born before germs was discovered, thereby havin' less to worry about."—Washington Star.

Ancient Iceland.
Iceland was founded A. D. 874, by men from Norway. In the words of John Fiske, "it was such a wholesale colonization of picked men as had not been seen since ancient Greek times and was not to be seen again until Winthrop sailed into Massachusetts bay. It was not long before the population of Iceland was 50,000. Their sheep and cattle flourished, hay crops were heavy, a lively trade with fish, oil, butter and skins in exchange for meal and malt—was kept up with Norway, Denmark and the British Isles. Political freedom was unimpaired, justice was fairly well administered, naval superiority kept all foes at a distance, and under such conditions, the growth of the new community in wealth and culture was surprisingly rapid."

Disliked Egotism.
"What's the matter with you?" asked his wife.
"I'm feeling lonely," was the reply.
"Don't you like this town?"
"I don't like this earth."
"What's the objection to it?"
"People are too egotistical. If there is anything I hate it's egotism. And when I see kings going about confidently and doing things wrong, and diplomats trying all sorts of insincere tricks with complete effrontery, and lawyers seeking applause for arguing on the wrong side of a case, and everybody displaying utter selfishness without a blush, I am forced to the conclusion that I am the only consistently moral gentleman on this globe." And it makes me feel lonely.—Exchange.

SCANDAL MAY BE BROUGHT OUT

Divorce Suit of Former Terre Haute Minister Expected to Prove Sensational

WOMEN SAID TO BE INVOLVED

Wife Files Cross-Complaint—he is New an "Attorney" in Los Angeles, Calif.

(By United Press.)
Newport, Ind., Dec. 10.—The story of how a Terre Haute minister gave up his pulpit and church following gossip involving women in his congregation may figure in a sensational divorce suit brought by O. E. Mark, former pastor of the Terre Haute Centenary M. E. church beginning here today. Mark charges cruelty and blames his down fall to gossip by his wife.
Mark, in less than three days time resigned as head of one of the largest and most influential churches in Terre Haute, stepped down as president of the Terre Haute Ministerial association and resigned as a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Indiana Northwestern conference.

Mrs. Mark, by filing a cross complaint, said to contain sensational charges, indicated that she might bring to light some of the alleged scandal connected with her husband name.

Mark secretly filed his divorce suit Dec. 12, 1914 while he was still pastor of the church. It was venue from the Vigo superior court to the Parke circuit court and from there here. In a letter authorized to be published by the Rev. James G. Campbell superintendent of the Greencastle district of the M. E. church it was stated that Mark, in a letter to Dr. Campbell, explained that he resigned as a Methodist pastor because he was "suing for divorce on other than disciplinary grounds."

Mark, while pastor, championed the cause of Donn Roberts former mayor of Terre Haute, convicted of election corruption.

Mark has substituted "Attorney At Law" for "Rev." and a name plate on the door at his office in Los Angeles, Calif., bears that inscription. Marks asks for the custody of his son, Frank L., 18, formerly a student at DePauw university, on the grounds that he is his son's fit guardian.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank were married Oct. 27, 1895 in the east. Mark was known as "the handsomest minister in Terre Haute."

An Exclusive Decoration.
Among the most inaccessible of decorations is the Grand Cross of the Russian Order of St. George, founded by Catherine the Great in 1769. In all its history of more than 150 years there have been but four Russians to receive the grand cross. The first was the Empress Catherine herself, who assumed it ex officio. The late Grand Duke Michael Nicolaievitch, having received the interior grades in the Crimean and Caucasus wars, was awarded the grand cross for his achievements as commander in chief of the Russian army in Asia Minor during the war with Turkey in 1877. His brother, Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, was on the same occasion elected a knight grand cross of the order for his victorious leadership of the Russian forces in Europe to San Stefano, within sight of the walls of Constantinople, while Czar Alexander II. was persuaded by the knights of the order to don its grand cross on the occasion of the celebration of the centennial of its foundation.

Giraffes and Telephone Wires.
At a recent meeting of the Institution of Electrical Engineers in London W. L. Preece told of the damage done to telephone systems in the tropics by animals. The giraffes in East Africa, he said, have not sense enough to duck their heads when they find a telephone of telephone wire across their tracks, but push on and carry the wires and sometimes the poles with them. While ants eat the telephone poles if these are of any wood but teak. He showed a telephone instrument that had been used as a hive by bees, which entered by the slot for the switch hook and formed inside a comb that was removed as often as it was cleared away by the engineers. Snakes also destroy the insulation by gnawing over the wires, and when saturated by dew render the insulation resistance to a few ohms.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

FOREIGN DEVILS.

The Answer a Chinese Official Gave a British Consul.

In his book "Home Life in China" Isaac Taylor Headland gives an account of the Chinese superstitions regarding the foreigner, one of which has resulted in their calling him Kuei-tzu, or "devil." A very amusing story, says he, is told of a red haired, red whiskered, blue eyed British consul at Canton who was, as are most of the British officials, of an investigative disposition and was anxious to know why it was that the Chinese call us of the west "foreign devils." Now be it understood that the Chinese idea of a demon is that he is a red haired, red bearded, blue eyed being who quails at nothing that comes in his way. One day when a Chinese official was calling on the consul the latter asked him:

"Why is it that the Chinese call us devils?"

The official at first hesitated, but being pressed, he finally said, "I do not care to tell you."

"But I should take it as a great favor if you would tell me. I am very anxious to know."

"I cannot tell you," said the official.

"Why not?" asked the consul.

"Because you would be angry if I told you."

"By no means. I would not be so unreasonable as to ask you a question and then be offended because you answered it. On the other hand, I should be greatly obliged to you."

Being thus pressed until he was unable to refuse, the official finally eyed the consul from head to foot and said slowly and reluctantly, "Well, it is because you look like devils."

This natural superstition of the people was taken hold of by the Boxers in 1900 and circulated still more widely by all kinds of placards, both in prose and verse. I have one before me in verse, a part of which, translated, read as follows:

The devils are not human beings like you.
If you doubt what I say
You may see any day
That the eyes of the devils in color are blue.

WEIGH THEIR HATS.

A Fad of Fussy Men Who Are Cranks in the Matter of Headwear.

In the back part of a Broadway hatter's store there is a pair of scales that are used only in the case of particular demands by particular customers. As a general thing you don't look for scales in a hatter's, and the proprietor explained his reason for having them in this way:

"You will often find very fussy men when it comes to buying a hat. With them the weight of headgear is of prime importance. An ounce more or less gives them the fidgets when they have made a rule of life to wear only such and such weights on their heads. So I keep the scales to convince them. It is well that I do. It has settled many an argument with a grouchy and sold me many a hat."

"You may call them queer for wanting the exact weight they call for or within and not over that weight; but, come to think it over, they are not any queerer than the men who rush in here at the beginning of summer demanding summer headgear because they simply can't endure their heavy winter hats any longer."

"Well, they buy a straw and go away perfectly satisfied they are prepared for summer heat. And the hat they buy? Why, by actual weight on these very scales it often weighs two to four ounces more than the winter hat they have been wearing. One of our good customers has regularly shifted from a twelve ounce winter slouch to a fifteen ounce summer straw and has been happy in the change."

"It is a fact, however, that thousands of men know the truth of what the Broadway hatter says, but still buy heavy straw."—New York Sun.

Is Your Stomach Clogged With Waste?

Johnson's Drug Store Guarantees to Return the Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Relieve You.

"It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when the customers come in afterward and tell us how much good it has done them," said Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists to a Daily Republican man, "that is why we like to sell and recommend Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy. Johnson's Drug Store have so much faith in this article that they are going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of Mi-o-na whom it does not help. That may seem rash but the customers have said so many good words in its favor that they do not expect to have many packages returned."

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at their store and take home a box of Mi-o-na and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money."

This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since Johnson's Drug Store introduced it in Rushville shows that it does all that it is claimed to do—relieves dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables them who use it to eat what they want with no fear of trouble after.

RE-ADVERTISE FOR PRINTING BIDS

County Commissioners Decide Levy Brothers Want Too Much Money For the Annual Contract.

COMPETITION IS NEEDED

Set December 28 For Receiving New Estimates and Also to Allow Contract For Poor Supplies.

The county commissioners desire a little competition among the firms wanting the contract for the public printing for next year. Because of this the bid of Levy Brothers, the only one received yesterday was turned down and the commissioners re-advertised for bids, naming December 28 as the time for receiving them.

The commissioners were not exactly satisfied with the bid received yesterday. The price asked by Levy Brothers was higher than the year before and the commissioners believed that a little competition would result in a better price. The commissioners have done a little investigating of their own and have found that the surrounding counties get their printing cheaper than is charged Rush county. The firm bidding yesterday has had a clear field here for several years and with a little competition the commissioners believed that a better price would result.

Before adjourning the commissioners also established December 28 as the time for receiving bids for supplies at the poor farm for the next quarter.

The bond of Voorhees Cavitt, who will take the office of sheriff for two more years beginning January 1, was approved. The bond was in the sum of $5,000 with John Wallace, A. J. Ross and Oliver M. Siler as surety.

The contractor on the Frank Moore, et al., road was given an extension of time until June 1, 1916 to complete the road.

The commissioners accepted as part of the free gravel road system of the county one and seven-tenths miles of highway running north from Raleigh, petitioned for by Mart Clawson, et al. This piece of highway has been made to conform with other accepted highways and now becomes a part of the free gravel road system of the county.

Notice to Bidders

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, will receive sealed bids at the County Auditor's office in Rushville, Indiana, up until 2 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, December 28th, 1915, for the following:

Poor farm supplies as per estimate on file in Auditor's office.

And also the running gears of one farm wagon, without rub-lock, 3 1/4 inch skein, 3 inch tires.

And also coal for court house heating plant. Bidder to state price on Mine Run and various screened sizes of Indiana coal, F. O. B. Rushville, Indiana.

And also supplies for County Officials for year 1916 as per estimate on file in Auditor's office. $2000 bond required.

Board reserves right to reject any and all bids.

Witness my hand this 16th day of December, 1916.

HOOSIER HISTORY

Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.

A POSTSCRIPT

But Morton had gone to Washington to seek aid in providing for the Indiana soldiers and in payment of the interest on the state debt. Getting a hint of Morton's mission the Sentinel added the postscript to its Centennial lay: "P. S. We understand from a most responsible source that his excellency has not been in Centerville at all, but that he has been paying court to the wise men of the east and that yesterday with majestic air, he was gracing the magnificent portals and corridors of the palatial St. Nicholas, in New York City."
